Headline:
Dry start then rain, turning to snow later.

Today:
Bright at first over Dundee and Angus but cloudy later. Dry start elsewhere, but rain spreading from west, perhaps freezing rain in places, edging in from southwest, turning increasingly to snow during the afternoon away from the east coast. Maximum temperature 3 deg C (37 deg F).

Tonight:
Cloudy with further rain on low ground in east, but snow further inland, heavy over parts of Perthshire and Stirlingshire, significant accumulations and some disruption. Minimum temperature 0 deg C (32 deg F).

Thursday:
Cloudy with further rain at times, still falling as snow on higher ground inland though the snow tending to become confined to hills as it peters out in the afternoon. Maximum temperature 4 deg C (39 deg F).

Outlook for Friday to Sunday:
Dry start Friday, but rain, hill snow later and through Saturday morning, becoming drier, brighter in afternoon. Sunny intervals and a few showers on Sunday.
